The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 16, 18-22, 24-29, 43, 45-49, 51-55, 79-84 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over applicants' admission on page 2, line 12, in view of Coutts et al for the reasons given in Paper No. 15.

Applicants argue that neither Coutts nor applicants suggest using the (-)- stereoisomer of bupropion to treat nicotine addiction or aid in smoking cessation. This is not persuasive. The disclosure of the applicants is relied on to show that racemic bupropion is known in the art to treat nicotine addiction or aid in smoking cessation. Coutts et al disclose that the properties of a racemate may be different than those of its stereoisomers.

Therefore, in the absence of a showing of unobviousness commensurate in scope with the broad claims one of ordinary skill in the art would expect that there would be a difference in the ability to treat nicotine addiction or aid in smoking cessation depending on the stereoisomer of bupropion that is used. In re Adamson, 125 USPQ 233.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 1614

In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
